$E = mc^2$

"If you can't explain it simply, you don't understand it well enough." (Also applies to Chemistry)

Did you know? The average student spends 1,200+ hours preparing for board exams — that's 50 full days of pure study.

but this time, Excellence = Mind $\times$ Consistency²

On May 13 2025, as the country continued with its routine pace, students of Grades X and XII awaited a moment that marked the culmination of an academic year—the CBSE board results. With a few keystrokes and a roll number, months of effort, revision and perseverance were brought into sharp focus. Among the standout performers were three students from Grade X Shambhavi Bharadwaj scored a remarkable 98.2%, Gauri Chauhan and Riddhi Garg each achieved an impressive 98%. All three were recognized at the district level for their academic excellence—a reflection not just of high scores, but of consistent performance & discipline throughout the year.

This year's results offered more than academic data. They reflected a deeper narrative of persistence. Drawing inspiration from Albert Einstein's iconic equation, $E = mc^2$, the school adopted a symbolic interpretation:

"Excellence = mind $\times$ consistency" In this context, "mind" represents intent, focus, and potential, while "consistency squared", denotes the sustained effort shown day after day—through challenges, routine, and uncertainty. The results demonstrated that academic excellence is rarely sudden. It is the outcome of steady work and deliberate choices over time. The Grade XII results also reflected commendable performances across streams:

Soha Ali (Humanities) led with 95.6%, followed by Manvi Kohli (Humanities) with 94.6%. Prakriti Balian (Commerce) with 92.8%, Mansi Prajapati (Science) with 92%. The school's overall performance was a testament to both the students' dedication and the supportive academic environment that guided their journey. These results underscore the importance of mindset and consistency in long-term academic achievement. As psychologist Angela Duckworth observed, "Enthusiasm is common. Endurance is rare." This year's achievers have demonstrated that rare endurance—steady, deliberate and deeply earned. We extend our congratulations to all students and wish them continued success in their future endeavours.

Of Footsteps, Farewells & Forever Bonds

Moments that moved... People who mattered... Memories that remain.

A New Dawn: Welcoming Sister Kripa

With a heart full of grace and eyes set forward, Rev. Sister Kripa joins us not just as a new face — but as a new force. Her arrival marks the beginning of fresh ideas, renewed spirit, and a continuation of the values we hold close. There's an energy she brings — quiet yet purposeful — and we're eager to witness the positive changes her presence will inspire. A new chapter begins, and with it, new hopes bloom.

SR. KRIPA - FINANCIAL HEAD

The newsletter team, warmly congratulate and welcome Sister Kripa to our school community. We look forward to walking this journey together — rooted in faith, growth, and shared purpose.

A Lifetime in Service: Sister Jovita's Diamond Jubilee

Sixty years. Not just of devotion — but of daily decisions to serve, uplift, and love. Rev. Sr. Jovita's Diamond Jubilee was not merely a celebration of time passed; it was a tribute to time well-lived. Her life radiates quiet strength — a life carved in prayer, built in sacrifice, and lived for others.

In her footsteps, we don't just find a path — we find a purpose.

A Graceful Departure: Farewell, Sister Vilma

Rev. Sister Vilma's farewell wasn't marked by speeches alone — but by the silence that followed, the kind that comes only when someone truly meaningful leaves. She was the calm in our chaos, the quiet guide in the background, shaping our days with soft discipline and deep care.

Her departure is not a goodbye — it's the passing of her light into each of us.

RIGOLE

I guide without speaking,
I'm felt but not touched.
I bring peace where I go,
And stay when people leave.
What am I?

With Love, Laughter & Lots of Memories: A Farewell to Sr. Catherine

Wherever Rev. Sister Catherine walked, she left behind warmth. Her goodbye was a gentle reminder of how rare it is to find someone whose presence brings both strength and serenity. She shaped hearts not with instructions, but with inspiration. She leaves not an absence, but an imprint. The halls may echo differently now — but they'll always carry her rhythm.

serendipity

/serən'dipiti/ [noun]

Serendipity refers to the occurrence of fortunate events or discoveries by chance. It's the act of finding something valuable or agreeable without actively looking for it. Essentially, it's a happy accident or a fortunate surprise. The term was coined by Horace Walpole in the 18th century. E.g. 'They found each other by pure serendipity'

"Every farewell echoes a beginning. Every arrival carries legacy. And in the footsteps of our Sisters, we walk together — bound not by time, but by faith."

THE TITANS

THE ROTI
THE RANK AND THE RISE
An Indian tale of true Titans

~The Sovereign Gazette

Once,
in a typical Indian household,
a mother stood in the kitchen flipping rotis while keeping an ear on her child's online class.
"Arey beta, your roll number was called — why are you still muted?!"
"Because Maa, I was solving the question before ma'am finished asking it."
She paused, looked at the half-cooked roti in her hand, and said:
"This one's for the toppers."
And just like that — a legend was born.
Every home has its version of it.
The child who wakes up at 4 AM but says,
"Itna kaafi nahi hai."
The one who plays sports, aces tests, organizes events, and still helps friends before exams.
The one who gets excited about "just participation certificates" because it's not about winning — it's about showing up.
They don't wear crowns.
They wear ID cards and tired eyes Their weapons aren't bows or swords — they carry highlighters, hard work, and hunger to grow.
They don't fight demons — they fight distractions, doubts, and deadlines.
These are our Titans — not from Olympus or ancient scriptures — but from our classrooms, corridors, and communities.
So here's to them:
The unsung toppers, the silent creators, the captains who lead from behind, and the dreamers who dared.
They don't just study to pass.
They rise to inspire.

Where Minds Compete and Hearts Shine: A Celebration of Talent at St. Mary's Bringing together 21 schools in a festival of expression and excellence.

On 14th May 2025, our school, St. Mary's, Buddhi Vihar, Moradabad, proudly hosted the Brass City Sahodaya Competitions, welcoming 21 schools for a vibrant display of skill and spirit. The Salad Showdown (Classes 6–8) blended creativity with healthy habits, as students crafted nutritious and artistic dishes. The Declamation Competition (Classes 9–12) showcased powerful speeches delivered with confidence and conviction. Aditi Neeraj (10-D) of our school secured third place, shining as a voice of determination. "Such platforms remind us that true education nurtures both mind and heart."

A SUMMER TO REMEMBER

This past summer, schools across the region hosted fantastic Bhartiya Bhasha Summer Camps (BBSC)! Students dove into the fascinating world of India's many languages, and it was so much fun learning new words, songs, and stories in different languages. It felt like we were all discovering a secret code together! St. Mary's School had an extra-special focus on the Punjabi language for seven amazing days. We wrapped up our inaugural Summer Camp with laughter, adventures, knowledge and skills that will last a lifetime. The week was packed with fun activities and lots of learning. Students explored Punjab through exciting events such as: Day 1: Learning basic greetings and expressions, practicing the alphabet, numbers, and even how to write simple signatures in Punjabi. Day 2: Taking a virtual city tour of Punjab and practicing real-life conversations to build confidence in using the language. Day 3: The Heartbeat of Punjab — exploring Punjabi art, music and creative expression through painting and folk songs.

Day 4: A Taste of Punjab — discovering the region's delicious cuisine and learning about traditional Punjabi dishes. Day 5: Heroes, Voices & Listening Ears — listening to folk tales, poems, and stories about Punjabi heroes and role models. Day 6: Uncovering Punjab's Past & Present — diving into the history, culture, and modern life of Punjab through storytelling and interactive sessions. Day 7: Wrapping up the Punjab's journey with fun activities, performances, and reflections on what everyone learned during the week. It was the final day of the camp, but certainly not the end of their Punjabi adventure — students were encouraged to keep exploring, speaking, and celebrating this beautiful language with their family.

Celebrating Moments That Unite Us

Honoring Days That Matter

When a School Assembly became a Lesson in Courage : Tribute to Dr. B. R. Ambedkar

An unforgettable assembly celebrates the journey of a legend and inspires a generation to stand for change

On 12th April 2025, the students of Class 12 delivered an unforgettable assembly that didn't just tell a story — it made everyone feel it. Through their powerful performance, moving narration, and creative visuals, they walked us through the incredible journey of Dr B.R. Ambedkar — a boy who rose to write the very rules of the nation. From the pain of exclusion to the pride of nation-building, every scene struck a chord. Everyone felt proud, inspired and so much more. And when it ended, it wasn't just applause — it was a standing ovation for a man whose courage taught us that even the most unheard voices can shape history. It was more than an assembly; it was a powerful reminder that 'change starts with standing up, even when you're standing alone'.

Their Work is Quiet, But Their Impact is Loud

Labour Day celebration where laughter met love, and the hands that serve in silence were honoured.

This Labour Day, our school celebrated the true heroes who keep our campus running — our helpers like cleaning staff, guards, caretakers. Class 10 A dedicated the assembly on 1st May 2025, to thank them for their quiet strength and selfless work. Fun games like Musical Chairs and Tug Of War turned the playground into a stage of laughter and joy. Seeing them laugh and play reminded us that behind every clean corridor and peaceful morning, it's their hands and hearts at work. We thanked them not just with gifts, but with the respect, warmth, and love they deserve every day.

"Labour Day : A tribute to the backbone of our society - the workers!"

*" They wake before us,
work through the day,
In silent service,
without much to say A mop, a broom, a guarding stare...
Proof of a love that's always there.
We played, we laughed,
we gave, we prayed,
But words still fall short of the thanks
they're owed today.
So, here's our promise,
simple and true:
We see you. We need you. We thank you."*

International Yoga Day: Embracing Harmony and Wellness

On 21st June 2025, our school community came together to mark International Yoga Day with great enthusiasm and a spirit of togetherness. Students, along with teachers and staff, gathered on the school grounds to celebrate the timeless practice that unites body, mind and soul. The day began with an introduction highlighting the significance of yoga in our daily lives and its power to bring balance and calm amidst today's busy routines. Students performed a series of warm-up exercises and traditional asanas. Everyone participated with energy and focus. Teachers too joined in, setting an example of how yoga can benefit people of all ages. Students learned that yoga is not just a physical exercise but a path to a healthier lifestyle and a positive mindset.

Empowering Educators

Nurturing Our Teachers' Journey

Teachers Gear Up For A New Academic Year

To continue our commitment to meaningful and modern education, our school organised a Teacher's Orientation Program, bringing together all our teachers for two consecutive days of learning, reflection, and growth. We were honoured to welcome Rev. Fr. Sunny Jacob S.J., a highly respected educationist known for his extensive experience in training teachers across India and abroad. With decades of expertise and an inspiring presence, Rev. Fr. guided our teachers through a series of interactive sessions that challenged old ways of thinking and introduced new, practical approaches for the classroom. He spoke passionately about how conventional, rote-based teaching methods can limit a child's natural curiosity and creativity. Instead, he encouraged our teachers to embrace methods that put students at the centre of learning — promoting active participation, critical thinking, and real-world application of knowledge. The session covered innovative strategies for lesson planning, effective use of technology, creative assessment techniques, and ways to make classrooms more inclusive and engaging for every learner. Teachers were encouraged to share their own challenges and ideas, making the day lively and collaborative. His stories of training teachers in other countries and renowned institutions added depth to the discussions and inspired everyone to think beyond the textbook. He reminded us that in today's fast-changing world, the role of a teacher is not just to teach facts, but to ignite curiosity, build confidence, and guide students towards becoming lifelong learners. The program concluded with a warm interaction where teachers shared how inspired and motivated they felt to apply these methods in their classrooms.

It was a reminder that great teaching evolves constantly — and with the right mindset, every teacher can make a difference. We extend our heartfelt gratitude to Rev. Fr. Sunny Jacob S. J. for sharing his knowledge and vision with us, and we look forward for transforming our classrooms.

In Loving Memory A Sacred Farewell to Father Pope Francis

Some goodbyes leave echoes. When Father Pope Francis passed away on 21st April 2025, it felt as if heaven had called back one of its gentlest souls. The world fell silent, and within our school, that silence turned sacred. Our school didn't just mourn, it wept. His name alone brought comfort. That week in school felt different. The air was heavier, the prayers deeper. Children who had only seen him on screens held their hands tighter in prayer. The Sisters, whose lives his words had shaped, carried a quiet grief only the soul could hold. For a week, our assemblies became sacred spaces of remembrance. We prayed not just with folded hands but with trembling hearts. We mourned not only a Pope, but a father, a shepherd of peace, a friend to the forgotten. He made holiness human — in his mercy, we saw Jesus. Even though he never walked our school grounds, his spirit was felt. In every soft whisper of "May he rest in peace," there was comfort. Though he is gone in form, his legacy flows through our prayers, our choices, our hopes. We mourn deeply, but in that mourning, we carry his light forward.

An exclusive conversation with our Sister Manager & Principal

WHAT WOULD A MARIAN PACK IN HER SUITCASE FOR LIFE?

I interviewed our Honourable Rev. Sister Manager, Sr. Doreen D'Souza — an inspiring personality and guiding light for the students of St. Mary's. Sister has always been a source of strength, wisdom, and compassion. Through this session as well, she enlightened us about the values, little life lessons, and inner strength she believes a Marian should carry in her life. Before diving into the main segment of the interview, I began by asking Sister to share some glimpses of her school life. She responded that it was a tremendous rapport with the students and the teachers of her time. Also, the freedom her parents and teachers gave played a vital role in shaping her personality and had a lasting and positive impact on her life. Her insightful reflections prompted my next question: how her personal experience as a student influences the way she now guides the students of St. Mary's. She answered with three values— Freedom, Determination, and Conviction. With those brief glimpses into her personal journey, we then proceeded to the main segment—asking her that if life were a journey & every student carried a suitcase with them, what values, she believes, must be packed and not left behind. She answered that freedom with responsibility, determination, conviction, and nobility are the virtues a Marian should carry forward in her life.

Next, I asked her to imagine if our school was a book — what would the chapter be called and what lesson would it teach?

She replied

"Freedom, because that's my way of life."

Before wrapping up that enriching session, when I asked her to share a final message with the students, Sister encouraged students to use their tech-savviness wisely. Finally, the session ended with a note of thanks to Sister and the audience.

UNANSWERED QUESTIONS

Marks vs.

Merit: Cracks in the System, Told Honestly.

In a candid interview, Mrs. Preeti Agarwal (Principal) shared how an unplanned detour led her to discover her passion for education. She spoke about the importance of values, self-esteem, co-curricular growth, and the need for students to carve their paths without the burden of societal or parental expectations. But when questioned about schools denying science to students below 80%, she admitted the uncomfortable truth: as a principal, she's part of a system that often lets marks overshadow merit.

To end on a lighter, more personal note, we asked her a few rapid-fire questions. Value every student must have?

Discipline.

Role model? Sister Doreen D'Souza.

Quote she lives by? "You're always a student, never a master."

One thing she misses as a teacher? Classroom teaching and her students.

Habit she wishes students focused more on? Self-esteem and respect—for teachers, peers, and themselves.

Warm, wise, and wonderfully honest—this conversation gave us not just answers, but insight into the heart behind the head of our school.

BRAKES ON RECKLESSNESS : POLICE DRIVES HOME THE DANGER OF UNDERAGE DRIVING

In a powerful and eye-opening session, the local police department marched into school to speak to Class 12 students about the threatening risks of illegal driving practices. With gripping stories, straight talk, and real stats, the police department made the students aware of road safety measures. The students, too, listened to them with utmost focus and vigilance. The session served as a timely reminder that a moment of thrill and excitement on the road can lead to a lifetime of regret and guilt. The police politely urged students to follow traffic rules, respect the law, and be mindful of the responsibility that comes with being behind the wheel.

FIT IS FUN! SCHOOL BUZZES WITH VIGOUR UNDER FIT INDIA DRIVE

Rally was organised for students of Classes 8 and 12, blending fitness with fun and environmental awareness. Students were filled with enthusiasm and unbeatable energy showcasing athletic strength alongside highlighting the importance of bicycling.
